Submitted by Anonymous on Mon, Jul 23, 2012

Lynn Tramonte is the Deputy Director at America's Voice. She is the organization's primary liaison to Capitol Hill and policy groups in Washington, DC. Prior to joining America's Voice, Lynn worked at the National Immigration Forum for eight years doing legislative and communications work. She is a veteran of numerous legislative battles, including the comprehensive immigration reform debates in 2006 and 2007, and led the nationwide campaign to defeat federal legislation that would turn state and local police into immigration agents and undermine community policing. Lynn is a nationally respected advocate, coalition-builder, and writer.
